meticulously crafts the Seven Glaciers menu with seasonal picks and Alaskan specialties in-mind. The extensive wine list is hand-picked to complement the chef's menu. Seven Glaciers is accessed by aerial tram and located adjacent to the Upper Tram Terminal.

Group Activities

Summer or winter, meeting attendees at Alyeska have their pick of outdoor adventures and activities. From Alaska-only outings such as a glacier tours or scenic wildlife cruise, to team-building activities such as a naturalist hike or mountain biking, Alyeska offers a chance for your group to play together.

Alyeska is conveniently located and makes for the perfect basecamp for activities in Anchorage and along the Kenai Peninsula. The Alyeska sales and conference services team will work with your group, and preferred destination marketing companies, to design a personalized itinerary to complement your meeting agenda.

For winter meetings, Alyeska Resort boasts 1,400 skiable acres and a 60-passenger aerial tram. Known for our diverse terrain and abundant snowfall, skiing and riding Alyeska Resort is a must for winter enthusiasts. Alyeska offers private and group lessons for all levels. Heli-skiing and cat-skiing with Chugach Powder Guides is another great way to explore the surrounding mountains. In addition, trails for Nordic skiing and snowshoeing can be accessed right from the hotel.

Between Seasons

To meet at Alyeska more affordably, we recommend planning your conference or event in the spring (April to June) and autumn (September-November). During these timeframes, the Alyeska sales team can work closely with meeting planners on group rates for lodging, banquet services, activities and other needs your group may have.
