

ATTENTION HIKERS:

Hazardous conditions exist on the upper mountain. Snow is still present and melting out with moving water underneath snow bridges. Slip and slide hazard exists off trail. Stay on the main routes.

DO NOT hike in closed areas

The Base Area Road (Easy): is OPEN Use this 1 mile route for access between the Daylodge and the Hotel.

The Race Trail Route (Moderate): is OPEN for hiking up to the Runway (near the top of the Ted's Express chairlift). The Race Trail Route is CLOSED Sat – Sun from 12pm to 6pm. You may continue on beyond the Runway towards the top of the tram, but you will encounter snow half way up the mountain.

The Bowl Route (Moderate): is OPEN for hiking to the top of the tram. The route is 2.2 miles, with 2,000' of elevation gain, and it starts at the Daylodge. You will encounter snow midway up the mountain. Stick to the main road and do not travel off the established route.

The North Face Trail (Difficult): is now OPEN to the top! It is approximately 2,000 vertical feet in 2.2 miles. This trail is steep and rugged, so be prepared with adequate footwear. Hiking down this trail is not recommended. You may also hike across Spoonline or Picnic Spur to access Zug's Trail near the top

The Mountain Top Trail (Moderate): Is OPEN. This road runs from the top of the tram and the top of Glacier Bowl Express. You can make this a loop with Mighty Mite Trail.

Mighty-Mite Trail (Difficult): Mighty Mite Trail is OPEN to the top of Glacier Bowl Express. It is ½ mile with 500' vertical gain. Fragile vegetation exists in this area off trail. Please stay on the main path and do not cut switchbacks.

All CLOSED AREAS are actively monitored and enforced. Anyone caught trespassing will be subject to prosecution and fines. Anyone injured in these areas will be charged for the cost of any rescue efforts.
